James worked with us in December 2020 during our residency of performances at Riverside Studios in Hammersmith. He joined the company of Ferris & Milnes: Christmas Cracker as Choreographer.

James brought a wonderful energy to the rehearsal room, worked well with the performers and created some quality choreographic work. During technical rehearsals, James was on hand to support the company and collaborate with sound and lighting designers where necessary. He showed adaptability and strength of character and ensured the cast were confident with their routines. James worked particularly well with a young person who was guest starring in the production - they were new to live performance and James successfully built their confidence ready for the show.

James took great care to offer us additional support backstage and front of house, proving himself a team player. His diligence surrounding Covid-19 rules in both the rehearsal room and venue was also noted by the team.

James has a professional, friendly demeanor and was great to work with. We would certainly collaborate with James again and recommend him for further choreographic or performing work.
